

New Manager Training with Christine Hare

Most new managers were promoted due to their strength as an individual contributor. A leader's skillset is very different & the direct reports of a struggling manager will suffer if the manager is not equipped to succeed.

Many of the skills can be taught, but most organizations tend to throw a new manager in the leadership pool and hope they learn to swim. We have the expertise to coach and guide your new leaders to success.

360 reviews with coaching: appropriate when someone is newer in a role, approximately 60-90 days in and before they struggle!

“The 6 Types of Working Genius” assessment and facilitation: perfect for leadership teams who want to improve their effectiveness, communication, and productivity. (Ideal for a half-day offsite meeting or leader development program.)

Christine at Christine@LepusLeadershipGroup.com

Schedule a call: <https://calendly.com/lepusleadership30min/30min>

